- Those currently serving a health fund waiting period for pre-existing conditions.
- Private health customers currently locked in with another insulin pump health fund benefit.
- Anyone with private health cover who wants to trial Omnipod before applying.

The benefits of the Pay as you Pod subscription

No lock-in - no upfront costs - cancel anytime

What is the cost of the subscription?

The cost for Omnipod in Australia is partially subsidised through the NDSS for eligible people living with type 1 diabetes. Once subscribed, you become a registered Omnipod user and are eligible for NDSS subsidised Pods. Your subscription payment to Omnipod Australia is as follows:

- Omnipod 5: $185.00* per box
- Omnipod DASH: $168.27* per box

Current subsidised rate, subject to change*

How do I apply for the subscription?

- Make sure you are registered with the NDSS.
- Your diabetes healthcare team will submit an order form to Omnipod Australia and submit the Insulin Pump Consumable Access Form to the NDSS nominating Omnipod as your insulin pump.
- You pay your first subscription payment to Omnipod Australia.
- A starter kit, which includes a box of Pods and a Controller, will then be sent to your diabetes healthcare team for your training session.

Ongoing access to Pods

Once you are trained on the Omnipod system, you will receive a payment link via email for your future subscription payments. Please note: Payments will be updated with the NDSS by the end of the following business day to allow you to order your next box at an NDSS access point (usually a community pharmacy)

Ordering at the pharmacy and the NDSS co-payment

Contact your pharmacy to place your order. When you collect your order you will be required to pay the NDSS co-payment which is currently $35.30 per box (general) or $26.60 per box (concession). The NDSS co-payment is reviewed annually and is subject to change. You can order a maximum of 13 boxes of Pods within a 12 month period.
